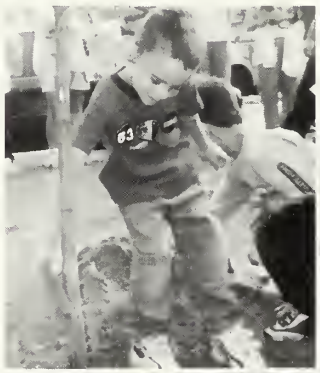
Facing the Future, Reflecting on the Past

Whitman-Hanson Regional High School
Franklin Street Whitman, MA 02382

Measures of time's passage :
Third graders may know something about what their futures may hold; most of those pictured at right probably expect to see their tree every day when they come to high school.
However they will remember that morning, it may have faded over the horizon when it is their turn to be fitted for a graduation cap.
Both seniors pictured at right have travelled a path that the class of 2014 is just beginning, but their journeys, like those of their peers, have been all their own.



A member of the Whitman-Hanson graduating class of 2014 helps in the tree planting ceremony.

Preparation for the Path

Clubs and Academics

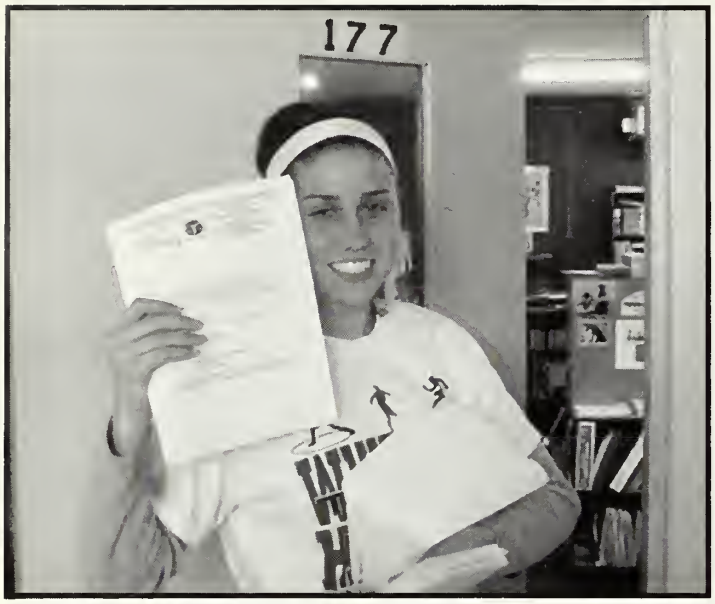
Zooming in on the future:.
Through enrolling in the Television Production class, students not only earn two credits, they learn in a hands-on way what it takes much of what they see when they turn their televions on at home.

Students often fit a club or two into their busy days of school, work and time with friends. Whether they they join the Key Club to serve the community, or Citizen's Scholarship Foundation to aid in preparing for their own futures, the time is well spent and contributes to student's growth as people.

"Even though I have a very busy schedule, somehow I manage to fit clubs into it. Clubs are the most important part of your high school career," said Senior Jillian Breen.

A captivated audience:
Senior Angela Brown, laughing at left, needed to find some floor space in the crowded assembly with Laura Twomey, Isiah Queen and other underclassmen.

Business & Data Processing



Junior Lyndsey Wadman shows what a caring person she is by donating her time to help out the less fortunate.

Whitman-Hanson High School offers many courses that will prepare a student for the real world. The courses offered provide exciting and challenging opportunities. The classes a student can take are: Intro to Computers, Computer Applications in the 21st century, Advanced Computer Applications for the 21st century, Web Page Development, College Keyboarding, Checks & Balances, Invest your Money, Global Investing, Integrated Workplace, Desktop Publishing, Database Development, Today's Entrepreneur, Business Law I & II, Community Service Learning, PowerPoint, Accounting I & II, Intro to Spreadsheets, Advanced Spreadsheets, Student Service Program, and Partners in Business-Internship Program.

Retailing classes are available to students in grades 10-12. Before the students can work outside of the school in a class called Work Experience, they must fulfill the obligation of at least one year in Retailing and at least one year working the school store. Then they can attend their real job from 12:30 p.m. until 2 p.m.

The Retailing classes attend a DECA competition annually where they compete in different types of activities like written exams, role-playing situations, and interviews. This year Heather Clay received third place in an interview. Eric Benoit and Adam Uritia won third place in team competition.

The Key Club is an after school program that is available to students in Grades 9-12. The Key Club is a group of unselfish students who take pride in their community and school. This year alone Key Club has done a rock-a-thon, a Teddy Bear Drive, a hop-a-thon, and other such fundraisers.

Math & Computer Science

Math and computer sciences are two programs at Whitman-Hanson that take a lot of pride in there students. There are many classes in which a student can take part in here in the Whitman-Hanson Math Department. Math Lab, Math III and IV, Personal Finance, Focus on Algebra, Focus on Geometry, Transition Math, Algebra I and II, Intermediate Algebra, Geometry, Trig and Statistics, Trig and Pre-Calc., Pre-Calculus, Discrete Math, Intro to AP Calc., AP Calc., Intro to Calculus, Business Math, SAT prep for Juniors, SAT prep for Seniors,and Math Academic Lab. The Computer classes offered here at Whitman-Hanson consist of Computer-C++ Language I and Computers C++ Language II.

Another program at Whitman-Hanson that we take pride in is CSF, the College Scholarship Foundation. The CSF is a group of adults that raise scholarship money for the graduating Seniors of Whitman-Hanson. About fifty to sixty thousand dollars is raised each year from donations. The CSF is made up of students who participate in fund raisers each year. After the four years of being part of the organization, the student who raised the most money during their high school career will be awarded the most scholarship money.

Foreign Language

The Foreign Language department always has exciting things going on. Several changes occurred this year, including a new department head, Mrs. Daily. Other new teachers include Ms. Gauthier, Mr. Sprout, Mrs. Hickey, and Mr. Kennedy. Mrs. Floeck even had a baby girl. Besides the new teacher positions, other events happened throughout the year. One such event that the French and Spanish classes participated in was a field trip to the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston. Senior Lauren Frazier said, "My favorite painting was 'The Ravine' by Van Gogh. It was pretty." The Foreign Language department always has new and exciting things happening, and the 2001-2002 school year was no exception.

Consumer Science

Every year, culinary art students from the family and consumer science department help families to have a better holiday. On Easter and Christmas, cookies are made and distributed to the Whitman and Hanson food pantries, as well as Meals on Wheels and the Veterans' home. Snickerdoodles, peanut butter cookies with M&Ms, chocolate kisses, peanut butter surprises, Italian cookies, sugar cookies, and gingerbread cookies are made. Amy Jarusevicius, who has taken a foods class in the past, said , "I like Italian cookies the best!"

The delicious assortments are placed in white bags, which are decorated using holiday stamps created by the art department. Former art student Lauren Donnelly said, "The project was interesting. I have never used stamps as an art form before."

Each food pantry receives at least 150 bags of cookies. The recipes for the cookies must be divided and multiplied, giving students a chance to use their math skills. The students also learn important business skills, such as how to modify their recipes and still remain within the budget. "I now feel as though I could host my own cooking show!" proclaims Jillian Breen thoughtfully.

Many lessons are taught as the students complete this project, and few can reflect without knowing they learned something. Even better is the lesson that they teach to the community- that hard work, cooperation, and generosity go a long way in the thankful hearts of others.

Senior Cassie Fountaine worked dillegently gathering cookies made from consumer sciences and donating them to the local food pantries.

Senior Tony Celia bakes muffins during his foods class 4th quarter.

Fine Arts & Music

Fine Arts and the Music programs at Whitman-Hanson are taken with pride. Each class brings a lot of unique talents, thoughts, and creativity. The music program has had a lot of success throughout the years. The band performs at the middle schools, elementary schools, during the football games, and even has concerts during the winter and spring. The music program has blossomed and has many clubs to prove it. The band and chorus programs are led by Mr. Olivieri while Majorettes and Color Guard are led by Mrs. Maccini. The art program lets the students express themselves in many of ways. Art Foundations is the basics for any art and design. Digital Art, 3D, ceramics, drawing/painting, art workshop, special projects, cartooning, and thearter art are all ways for the students to show their talents. Art lets the students be creative by the murals they use to decorate the halls. Each term there are special contests selected students will be entered into such as the VFW patriotism project, District Arts Festival, Scholastic Art Awards, and Art All-State. As you can see Whitman-Hanson is a diverse school that promotes the students to be as creative and unique as possible.

History & Social Studies

The History Department at Whitman-Hanson has had an amazing, award-winning year. The students in Mr. Stifler's Advanced Placement American History class, Mr. Davidson's Advanced Placement European History class and Historical Research classes participated in the Framingham Essay Contest and took home over half the prizes. Other Whitman-Hanson history classes wrote a research paper for National History Day and competed at Bridgewater State College.

The Framingham Essay, a research paper competition involving students from all over the state, was one of the most notable successes this year. The Framingham Essay is at least a twenty-page paper that requires twenty or more sources and takes about two months to write. Whitman-Hanson students took home over half the prizes awarded during the competition at Framingham State College. First prize went to Senior, Peter Smallcomb, who will have his paper published in a historical journal. The Top Ten winners of the contest from Whitman-Hanson included seniors Daniel Flanagan, Robert Hurstak, Janine Pare and juniors Mike Drewniak and Nathan Fowler. Other students including Sarah Goodwin, Andrea Bechen, Andrea Smith, Kelly Flynn, James Clifford, Zachary Wassmouth, Neil Fortin and Erin O'Connell received an Honorable Mention.

John Miley and Emily Reynolds both entered historical research papers for the History Day event and have a chance at moving on to state, regional, and possibly the national competition.

Overall, the Whitman-Hanson History Department had an amazing academic year. The achievements by students in academics and various after-school clubs such as Bible club, chess club, and mock trial speak highly of the outstanding teaching of the staff of the history department.

Language Arts & Communications

The English Department at Whitman-Hanson is known for its outstanding teachers, as well as its awarding winning students. This year is no different from the rest, the students are continuing to win awards while the teachers continue to inspire and educate. This year, students from honors and Advanced Placement English courses participated in essay contests such as The Spellmen Essay Contest and The VFW Essay Contest. The topic of the 2001 VFW contest was the future of America. The winner of the local competition competition was junior Michael Naughton. Second place went to senior, Lindsay Smith and senior, Katie Driscoll received third place. In 2002, the most notable competition was the Spellmen Essay Contest. In the Spellmen contest, the students reads his/her Spellmen research paper aloud infront of a group of judges. Even entrants who place outside of the top three receive fifty dollars. The winner of the entire contest receives $2500.

Science

Each year, the academic science classes participate in the Sophomore Science Challenge. This challenge is an academic contest designed to provide students with an opportunity to solve problems using scientific principles and creativity. Not only do Sophomores participate in the event, but also freshmen and juniors in science classes participate also. Past years' challenges have included building a tower out of spaghetti and spending a potato chip through the mail without it breaking. This year's first term challenge was to construct a vehicle using a fruit or vegetable. The vehicle was then raced against other "veggie-mobiles". Sophomore Cassandra Everett had the fastest "veggie-mobile" of all the science classes in The Great Fruit and Vegetable Race. Cassandra won with a time of .65 seconds.

Gym, First Aid & CPR

The Whitman-Hanson physical education program allows students to achieve and maintain a healthy lifestyle.The exercise aspect of the program is measured through fitness testing. These tests include pull-ups, flex arm hangs, sit-ups, shuttle runs, sit-and-reaches, and the mile run. The highest achievers from these areas receive the Presidential Fitness Award. Different from other high schools, Whitman-Hanson's physical education gives written quizzes, a term paper and a final exam! Each day students are graded on a scale from 1 to 5, 5 being the best. As a primary goal to Whitman-Hanson, the physical education class aims at helping students develp fitness skills to use throughout their adult lives.

Health I and II are courses designed to increase understanding of their bodily functions. The course helps students to understand issues such as nutrition, fitness, substance abuse, infectious diseases, human sexuality, stress management, depression and relationships. Students also learn new tactics to help cope with everyday issues.

First Aid and CPR gives students the knowledge and skills necessary in an emergency situation. This course teaches students life saving techniques, with hands-on activities and movies. By the end of the course each student had the opportunity to become certified for CPR and First Aid.

The Whitman- Hanson sports teams are a united group of talented athletes. They show their dedication and determination by workings as teams and having a winning effort. These athletes display enthusiasm and sportsmanship on and off the field. The coaches and advisors support their athletes in both their sports and classroom studies, in encouraging them to focus not only on their game strategies but also on their school work.In addition to their desire to excel, their determination and school spirit are unparallleled.From beginning to end of every season, they learn to unite and stand with each other as a team. Many athletes have left their mark on W-H with their efforts and good sportsmanship. The W-H athletic program will keep growing and the W-H athletes will continue to hang winning banners on W-H's gym walls.

"Welcome to Whitman-Hanson where sportsmanship is an expectation. So please:

Let the players play
Let the coaches coach
Let the officials officiate
Let the spectators be positive.

Going out a Winner

Above: Bob Bancroft gets boys fired up with long time friend and soon to be head coach Sean Clifford

Over the past 26 seasons Bob Bancroft has been the head coach of the Whitman Hanson Panther football team. This past season Bancroft was named New England Patriots coach of the year and division 3 Coach of the Year by The Boston Globe. Bancroft finished his career as the division 3 Super Bowl champions, about the ending of the game Bancroft said, "it couldn't have been invented in a dream." He was very pleased with the work ethic and the discipline of the boys on the football squad throughout his career. Coach Bancroft finished his career with a record of 185-85-4, with 3 Super Bowl Championships.

"Mama Bear"

Coach Rick Rodman had been a coach for the Whitman-Hanson Panthers for the past 14 years. He started here back in 1986 and since then Rodman had done nothing but leave a lasting impression on all of his players lives. Rodman's teddy bear characteristics lasted with him through out his life his presence was always made known through his loud voice and the support that he always gave. Rodman was the Defensive Line coach for the panthers and the kids that played on DLine were his kids and his kids only, if you wanted to talk to them you would have to go through Rodman first. He was like the "Mamma Bear" and the players were his cubs.

Whitman Hanson Girls Soccer

The girls' soccer team had a very successful 2001 season. The team was well represented with members from every grade. The team was led by Senior captains Kaylan Hurley, and Lindsey Smith(Team MVP). Other Seniors included Pamela Guglietti and Stephanie Howard.

The Panthers made it to the second round of the tournament before being knocked off by the Eastern Massachusetts Champions, Oliver Ames Tigers. Their tournament victory over Marshfield in the first round was the first tournament win for Whitman Hanson coach David Floeck.

Sophomore Whitney Johnson races to the ball to beat the opposition.

Keep the Ball Rolling..

Captain Pat Casey looks on as his teammates attack Dennis -Yarmouth.

The Boys Varisty Soccer Team started the season strong by beating East Bridgewater 3-1. Unfortunately, the Panthers weren't able to keep the ball rolling.

Hard work and strong senior leadership kept the Panthers in many games, but time after time the team came up short.

Coach Barrington summed up his team's season by stating, "Our record does not indicate how we played."

Captain Pat Casey agreed with his coach in saying that, "This season had its positive aspects, but it ended in a disappointing manner."

Key contributors for this year's Varsity team included Senior Eric Benoit, Senior Pat Casey, who led the team in scoring, Senior Conor Daley, and four-year varsity members John Decoste and Patrick Rose.

Sophomore Mark Pare, whose play this fall earned him praise from upperclassmen, will be among the leaders of next year's addition of Panther soccer.

Under the guidance of Coach James Barrington, the Panthers are sure to provide a great deal of excitement for years to come.

Girls Volleyball

Junior Kelsie McKenna, jumps high to spike the ball against Plymouth North.

The Whitman-Hanson Panther's Girls Volleyball team had an extremely successful season. Under the new leadership of Coach Mike Chin, the girls started their season with a tough loss to Quincy, then battled back to a record of 12-4. The girls made their first tournament appearance but unfortunately came up short to a strong team from Falmouth. Overall, the Whitman-Hanson Girls Volleyball team had an excellent season, and their hard work rewarded them with a first ever tournament invitation.

"The boys golf team had a successful season this year. The weather cooperated and it made the season that much better. Thanks to the continued effort from the boys, we played in one of the best leaugues this year-ACL. Even though we just missed making the state tournament the chance was an honor. Next year we are lucky to have so many returning golfers to attempt the division title."

-Coach Domingo Amado

"This year we didn't do as well as we all had hoped to do, but next year I feel we will have a better shot."

A Stong Finishing Kick

Below: Alex Maskell, Dan MacSwain, and Sean Conover attempt to block the Coyle-Cassidy Quarterback's pass during the Panthers' impressive 39-12 victory.

Six seconds left on the clock. The snap. The hold. The kick...it's up...it's good!!! Tom Pimentel's last second kick was a perfect finish to the 2001 season, and a perfect finish to his coach's career.

Pimentel's kick led the Whitman-Hanson Panthers to a 15-14 Division III Super Bowl victory over the Norwood Mustangs. The win snapped the Mustangs' state-best 27 game win streak, and marked the Panthers' first Super Bowl victory since 1994.

In the playoff game before the SuperBowl, the Panthers defeated the Gloucester Fishermen 49-35, and snapped the Fishermen's 23 game win streak.The only blemish came against Division 1 powerhouse Xaverian, who were the top rated football team in eastern Massachusetts for a majority of the season. The Panthers lost the game 21-14, but did not go down without a fight.

Whitman-Hanson captured their 16th ACL title in 20 years, and finished with a record of 10-1. In addition, the Panthers won their 17th straight Thanksgiving Day game versus archrival Abington.

The 2001 season marked Coach Bancroft's final year as Whitman-Hanson's head coach. Bancroft and the rest of the Panthers dedicated their memorable season to the late Coach Rick Rodman.

Running For Success

The Whitman-Hanson girls cross country team has experienced yet another successful season. This year the girls went 3-2 with victories over Nauset, Randolph, and Plymouth-North. Sandwich and D-Y proved to be tough matches in which the girls only lost by a few points.

After losing so many seniors from last year's squad everyone thought the girl's cross country team would be experiencing a rebuilding year. Through teamwork and determination, the girls proved this wrong. Senior Co-Captain Bridget Black reflects on the season: "This sesason was great. Even thought this wasn't a team with huge natural talent, we worked hard and achieved goals. Aside from times and scores, though, the best thing about this year's team was the teamwork and team spirit. We worked hard and had fun!"

Seniors Bridget Black, Cassie Hennessey, Megan Downer, and Amy Jarusevicious proved to be strong leaders. Co-captain Cassie Hennessey says: "Our cross country season was highly successful. The team worked exceptionally hard and made it fun. Pasta parties before meets kept us psyched and energetic. I was really lucky to be a captain of such a determined and enthusiastic team! I wish the girls the best of luck next year!"

Seniors Amy Jarusevicious, Cassie Hennessey, Bridget Black, and Megan Downer were strong leaders and showed how to get the job done.

Dynasty Continues

The Panther cheerleading squad holds a legacy of having great squads over the years. This year's team proves no different. The Panthers won their fifth consecutive ACL fall title this past November at Sandwich High School. This win keeps the Panthers undefeated in the ACL championship in both fall and winter competitions. Winning the ACL was not the only highlight of the year, the cheerleaders also recieved an extra bonus from being able to cheer in the playoffs and Super Bowl when the football team conquered. This year was a great team effort by everyone on the squad. Graduating seniors include Tiffany Pryor, Heather Johnston, Becky Merritt, Pam Duncan, and Ashley Dacey.

"The football season was very exciting with the playoff and Super Bowl win! It makes it more special when the cheerleading squad and football team both win the ACL Championship Title," said varsity head coach Mrs. Getchell.

Special Olympic Athletes

The Whitman Hanson Special Olympic Athletes Team participates in a number of Regional and State Special Olympic Competitions throughout the year, including Floor Hockey, Bowling, Soccer skills, Basketball skills, and Track and Field skills. The attend both state winter games in Lennox, Massachuesetts, for 3 days in February.

They also participate in the state Track and Field summer games for three days in June, in Boston, at B.U. This year they won a gold medal in Floor Hockey at the state winter games in Lennox.

The state games are also social events, which include Dances, and other social event. They are always having alot of fun because they are with their friends, and are trying hard in the game to get their gold medals.

The 2001-2002 Whitman-Hanson hockey team was a group of players that has, in the words of head coach Chris Googins "gotten closer as the year went on, and hopefully that commitment will reap benefits for us in the tournament."

It was extremely hard to pick a highlight of the year, here are a few: Beating Quincy twice, 3-2 at home and 3-2 in Quincy.

Panther Night on January 2nd, 2002 winning that game against Nauset 6-3.

Another great memory took place on Wednesday January 9th, 2002. A game in which Junior Josh Robertson Scored 6 goals, scoring two in the first period, 1 in the second, and scoring a natural "hat trick" in the third period. Resulting in a crushing 7-1 win over Plymouth North.

Shooting for Success

The 2002 Whitman-Hanson Girls' Basketball team had a tough act to follow after last year's team made an appearance in the State Tournament. Leading the team this year were five Seniors, Pamela Guglietti, Casey Geraghty, Susan Potter, Stephanie Blakeman, Kristen Sidor, and Juniors Jenn Thomson and Kelsie McKenna. Despite what others thought, the girls surpassed everyone's expectations and finished the season with a league record of 11-1 along with winning the Atlantic Coast League title, the girls also made it to the State Tournament, where they faced Framingham in a tough loss. Coach Jim Daley said, "The girls worked hard, came together as a team, and accomplished many goals including winning the ACL."

Keeping the Tradition Alive

The Team's Test~To see if they could survive such a drastic transition.
Kains Mission~ To fill the shoes of the mastermind who has created the Panther tradition.
The Outcome~ A successful season on an individual and team level.

The Panther wrestling season felt like a rollercoaster ride, with its share of ups and downs. The team got off to a fantastic start by winning their first five meets. The team then went down a steep drop and lost five meets in a row. Things were looking grave with the Panthers losing to Durfee by 28 points with only 5 matches to go. The Panthers rallied with pins from the veterans: Guy Savage, Nathan Garrett, and Greg Antoine. Billy Hall came through with a stunning victory for 6 points and finally, CJ Stevens tech falled his opponent in a mere 2 minutes and 30 seconds, to give the Panthers a 1 point victory.

When speaking with Coach Kain, he said his most memorable moment was the divison II South Sectional Tournament. The Panthers placed 2nd, losing to N. Attleboro without even having a full line up. Brian McCarthy shocked the nation with a third place finish and getting even with a long time foe. Doug Brown showed great determination fighting through a plauging injury and placing 4th. Ben Dineen embarrassed his opponent by pinning him in 9 seconds. Ben Dineen went on to win the Division II State Tournament.

Captains CJ Stevens and Ben Dineen were named All-Scholatsic for both the Enterprise and the Ledger, placed 6th at all states, finishing off a fulfilling career. Honorable mentions were given to both Greg Antoine and Guy Savage.

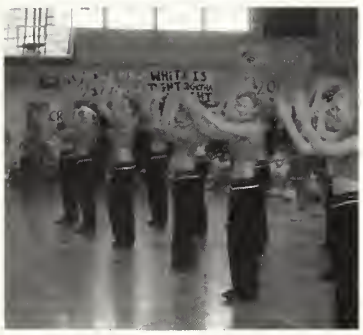
Dance Team

The Whitman-Hanson Dance Team is a competitive program created for students to express themselves through movement and demonstrate their talent in dance. The dance team combines the styles of jazz, hip-hop, and modern to exhibit their vast knowledge of dance and remarkable skill. The WHDT is an award winning team that illustrates tge true meaning of friendship and teamwork. Each year the members of the Whitman-Hanson Dance Team compete in competitions throughout Massachusetts and Rhode Island. With the program growing larger and stronger each year, the dance team anxiously awaits the 2002-2003 season.

Now under the new advisment of Lauren Belden, a graduate of Whitman-Hanson, the dance team has flourished. The Dance Team came about in 1999 and since then has grown into a sport that is enjoyed by many. After long hours of practice the team competes in competitions through out New England and even performs for the school during the Thanksgiving Pep-Rally. The girls really show their stuff dancing to music of all kind. These girls are hard working, dedicated, and physically fit, making their shows even more impressive.



The Panthers begin their dance routine by getting the crowd involved by clapping.

The Panther Dance team performs during the Thanksgiving Pep-Rally getting the football team ready to take on Abington once again.

Been Around The World

Whitman-Hanson Students Traveling Abroad

Travel has become increasing popular among teenagers of the twenty-first century. Family vacations now include trips to exotic places, rather than the traditional Florida vacation. Some Whitman-Hanson students enjoy vacationing with friends instead of family. Some students even travel with Whitman-Hanson faculty. In April of 2000, students and faculty traveled to Europe over school vacation. The students experienced a different way of life as they ventured around Europe. Not only did the students bring back souveniers, but also they brought back memories they will never forget. Whether you travel with a group of good friends or your family, you will always return with memories of a time you won't soon forget.

Jeff Sironi, Nathan Fowler, Nathaniel Blauss, Neil Fortin and Andy Bertino tour Venice by gondola, in April 2000.

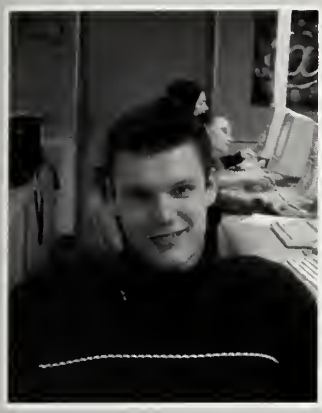
Is that the queen or Alissa Rogers? Alissa who visited Scotland in 1999, stood in front of Hollyrude Castle, where the Queen was staying at the time.

Andy Bertino experiences Roman adventures outside the Colosseum, the Roman only gives it one thumb up.

Changing Places

Foreign Exchange Students at Whitman-Hanson

Some may call it traveling, but these exchange students call this oppurtunity "a chance if a lifetime." Coming from all over the world, these students unite with Americans from Whitman-Hanson to form a lasting friendship. The exchange students are placed in homes of students, known as their "host family." To experience life in America, many foreign exchange students go on vacation with their host families. Ame Haji went to Florida with his host family and Welf Burchard went to a Celtics game and then vacationed in New York. These are just some of the places foreign exchange students like to visit with their host families, who make their experience here one they'll never forget. During the time they have here, the students develop a loving relationship and begin to feel like a member of an " American family."



" High school is different, it is very cool. I want to meet a cute girl for prom, but she must be nice."

Welf Burchard
Germany

Q: What do you miss most about Brazil?
A: I miss the parties and the nightclubs.

Q: What is your favorite thing about America?
A: I love that everything is cheaper here. People here are very funny especially, Rose Billings.

Ricardo Amaral
Brazil

"Whitman-Hanson High School is a very beautiful place."

"Everybody is so happy here, and treats me very nicely"

Joao Albino

Q: Do you like America?
A: "Yes, I like it in America, the people are very nice here."

Q: Do you think Whitman-Hanson is a good school?
A: "Yes, I believe it is a very good school, however it is very different."

Jeronimo Vianna
Brazil

As a response to the local impact of the tragedies on September 11, Mr. Kane, Mrs. Anderson, Student Council, SADD, and the girls volleyball team organized a fund raiser for the Coombs family of Abington. Members of the W-H school community raised $2,250 in just two days, and Fleet Bank matched this donation.

First Face of Seniority

One of the most memorable moments for the Class of 2002 was the Junior Prom. The majority of the class came together to have a great time with one another. The Junior Prom is significant to because it marks the first formal event for the Class of 2002.

A Reflection Proved True in Time

Former Principal Robert J. Gay socializes with C.J. Stevens and some members of the wrestling team at the Junior Prom. Besides being principal for the last six of his 27 years at W-H, Mr. Gay was the wrestling coach for his final 16 years as well. He was also assistant principal for seven and a half years, and taught social studies for 13 and a half years.

Current W-H principal, Mr. Paul Alperen, says Mr. Gay is "a wonderful, dedicated, visionary leader who cares very much for his students."

Mr. Gay left W-H to become the principal at North Attleborough High School. Although he misses W-H, Mr. Gay is very happy at his new school.

The class of 2002 along with the faculty and staff thank Mr. Gay for the 27 years he devoted to W-H.

Dancing Under The Stars

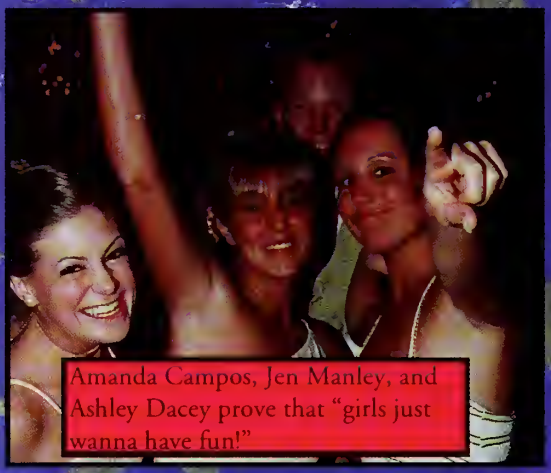
Junior Prom-2001

It's May 18th 2001. Dismissals for Juniors are being announced, the scent of fresh flowers fills the air and limos scatter through the streets of Whitman and Hanson. This must be no other than the day of the Junior Prom.

Most students are excited, some are nervous. As plans start to fall into place, all are looking their best and are ready for a night to remember.

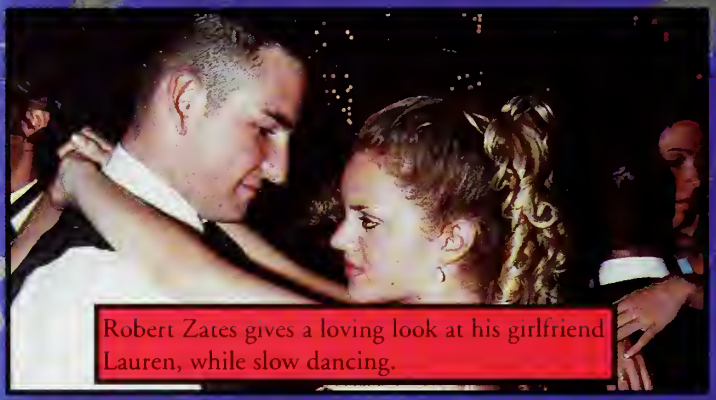
At last, the doors to the West Bridgewater Canoe Club open. People begin to enter and music starts to play as memories are being made. By the end of the night the Whitman-Hanson Juniors have built their own "Stairway to Heaven" and spent a night dancing under the stars.

Kerri Houldcroft is a "Dancing Queen" between David Chiros and Jim Rego.



Amanda Campos, Jen Manley, and Ashley Dacey prove that "girls just wanna have fun!"

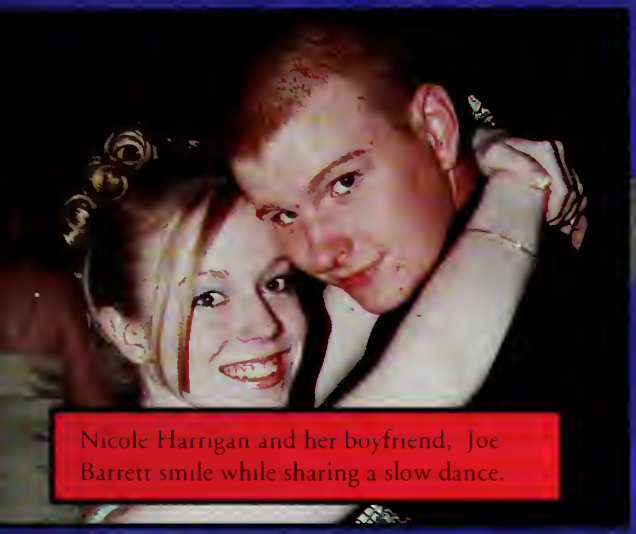
Joanna Clegg and her boyfriend Justin Holmes have her prom as one of the many memories they share together.



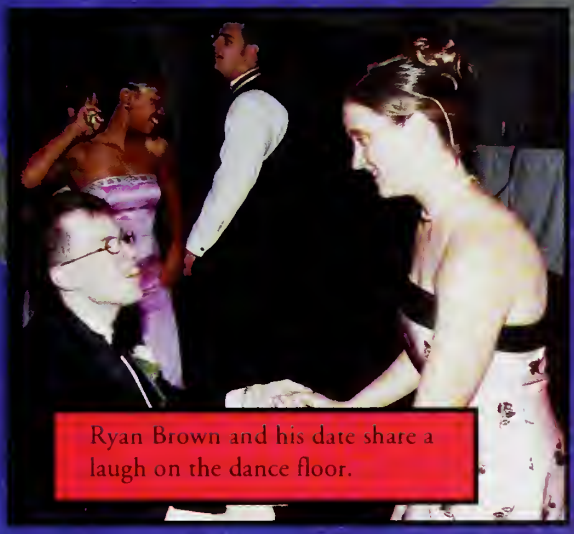
Robert Zates gives a loving look at his girlfriend Lauren, while slow dancing.

Tom Pimentel and Justin Randall share the same taste in tuxes.

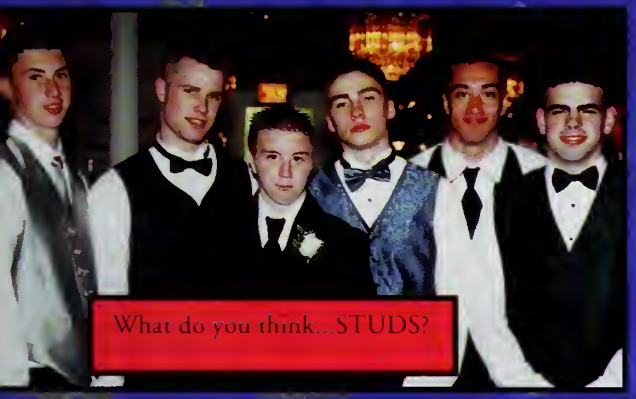
Stephanie Blakeman, Matt Woods, and Pamela DaSilva have a great time dancing to the music at the Jr. Prom.



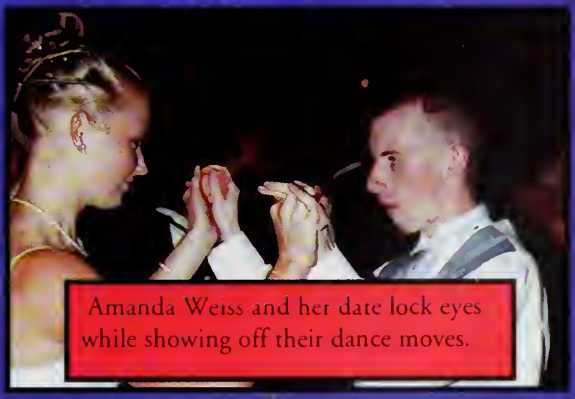
Nicole Harrigan and her boyfriend, Joe Barrett smile while sharing a slow dance.



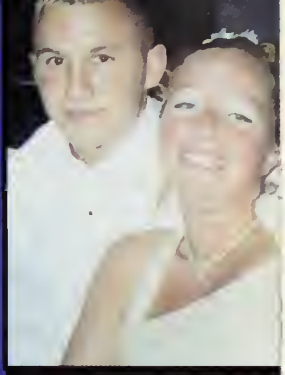
Ryan Brown and his date share a laugh on the dance floor.

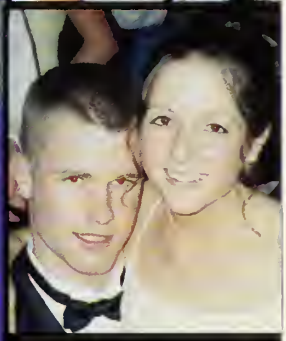


What do you think...STUDS?



Amanda Weiss and her date lock eyes while showing off their dance moves.





FRIENDS
Your friends will be there
No matter what you do
Hold on to the good ones
There are only a few
The kid you grew up with
The one next door
The one that called for
when you were bored
Since the first grade
All those old memories are starting to fade
Don't lose those memories
From your childhood
The friends you hung out
with
The few that were good
Because life's an adventure
And when it comes to an end
The memories you have will tell where you've been
Hold onto your friends
Don't throw them away because
The good ones don't come around
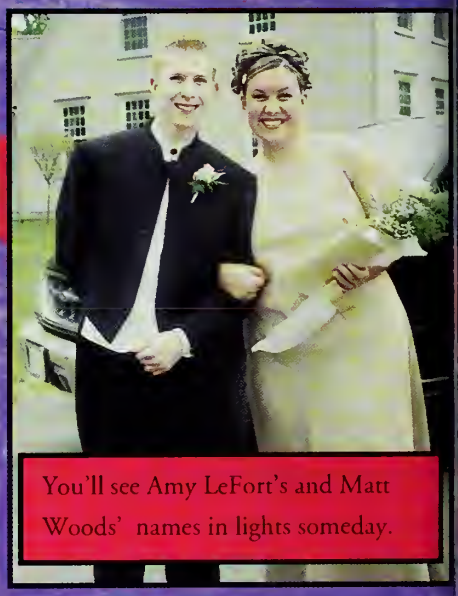
every day!
~Anonymous~

Danielle and Jessica always know how to have a good time. They share many fun memories together.

Six years after the "wit-out" Sarah and Savanah are more like sisters than simply partners in crime.

Alex Daley and Heather Lesogor have been like sisters since freshman year.



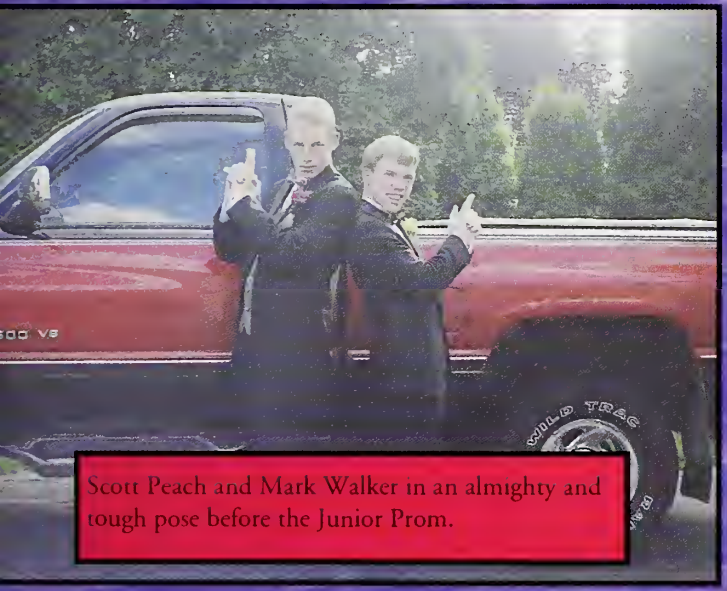
You'll see Amy LeFort's and Matt Woods' names in lights someday.

Remember the Good Times...

Best Friends

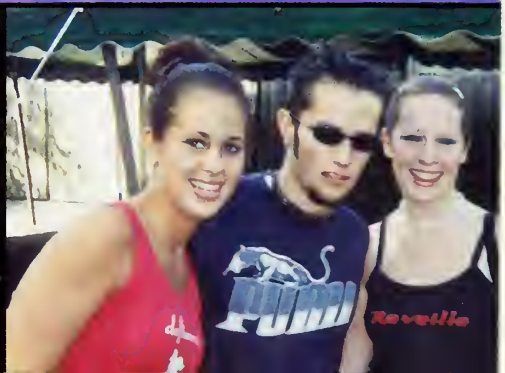
Kerri and Katie know that where ever they go next year, they will always have each other.

Nicole and Joanna want to keep Junior Prom one of the many memories they have made.



Scott Peach and Mark Walker in an almighty and tough pose before the Junior Prom.

Although they have other friends, they always find time to hang out. And know they will always be there for each other.

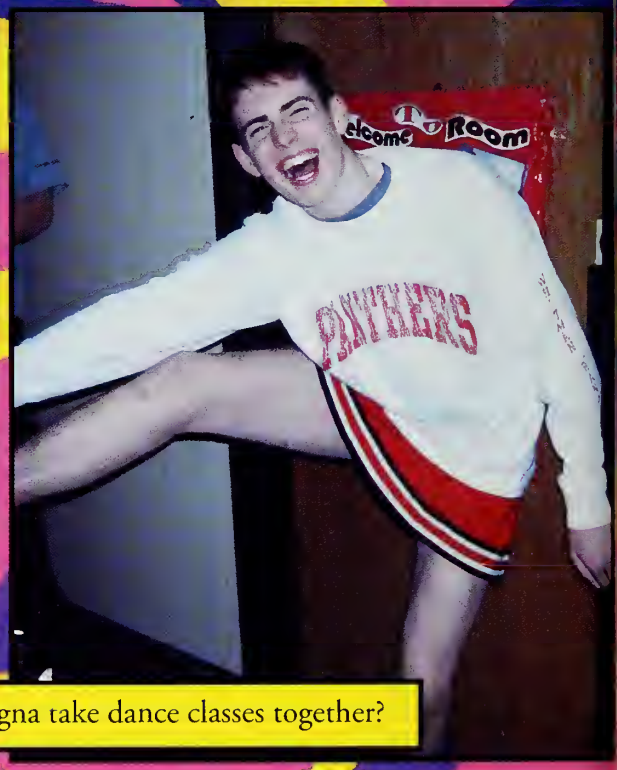


All The Good Times...

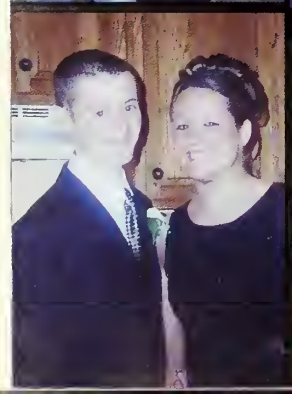
They were the best of times; they were the wort of times...

Actually, they were just the best of times! From crazy dress- up days to football games and concerts, the Class of 2002 sure knows how to have fun (counter-clockwise):

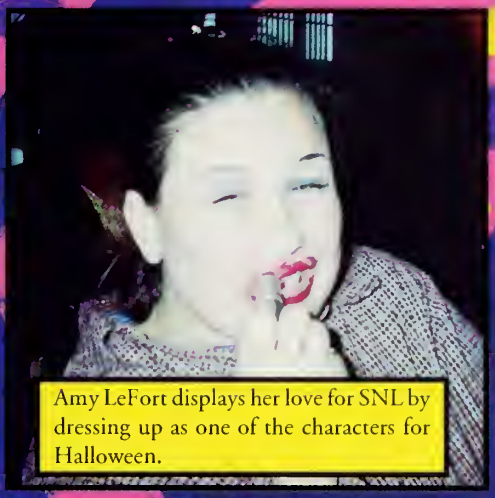
Sarah and Matt sing a duet; Heather and Tina relax after Junior Prom; Kerry and Veronica like Blink 182; Scott and Bill play Moulin Rouge; Eric as Jack from The Shining; Tom and Ashley pose before a dance; Casey, Jen, Susan, and Kate brave the cold; Tina, Scott, Carmen, and Javier have a slumber party; Angellic Allison watches over Stacey, Pam, and Stephanie; Kay and Megan monkey around; Greg and JP cuddle at the lock-in; Nikki, Jess and Amanda jump around; Lauren, Melissa and Carolyn have fun at Jel Rave; Jill clowns around; Ashley and Katelyn pose; Emily treasures her stuffed cow; Melissa and Lindsey have a little too much fun with beanie babies; Josh acts tough at a freshman party.



Do Casey Geraghty and Joe Brogna take dance classes together?



Stephanie Adams and Meaghan Bold relive childhood memories in their favorite store.



Amy LeFort displays her love for SNL by dressing up as one of the characters for Halloween.

Rachel Smith's dream comes true when she meets Chino from Deftones at Ozzfest '99.

Kerri Holdcroft shows her graceful side as she takes a fall during the summer of '01.

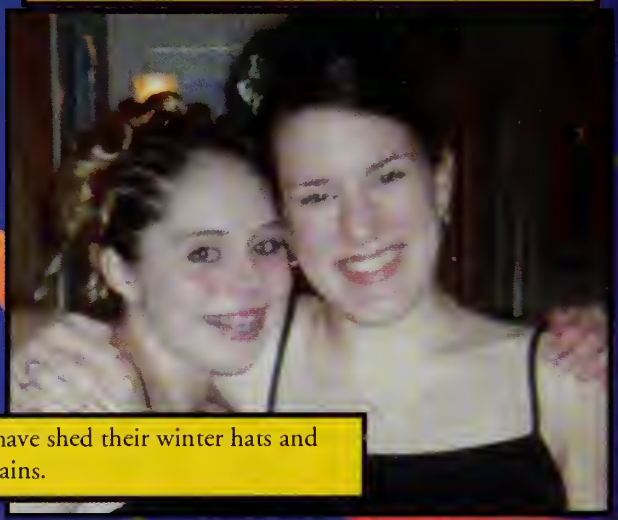
These are the days to hold on to . . .

Erin Bresnahan & Stephanie Blakeman have gone from playing in the street to dancing at the Junior Prom.

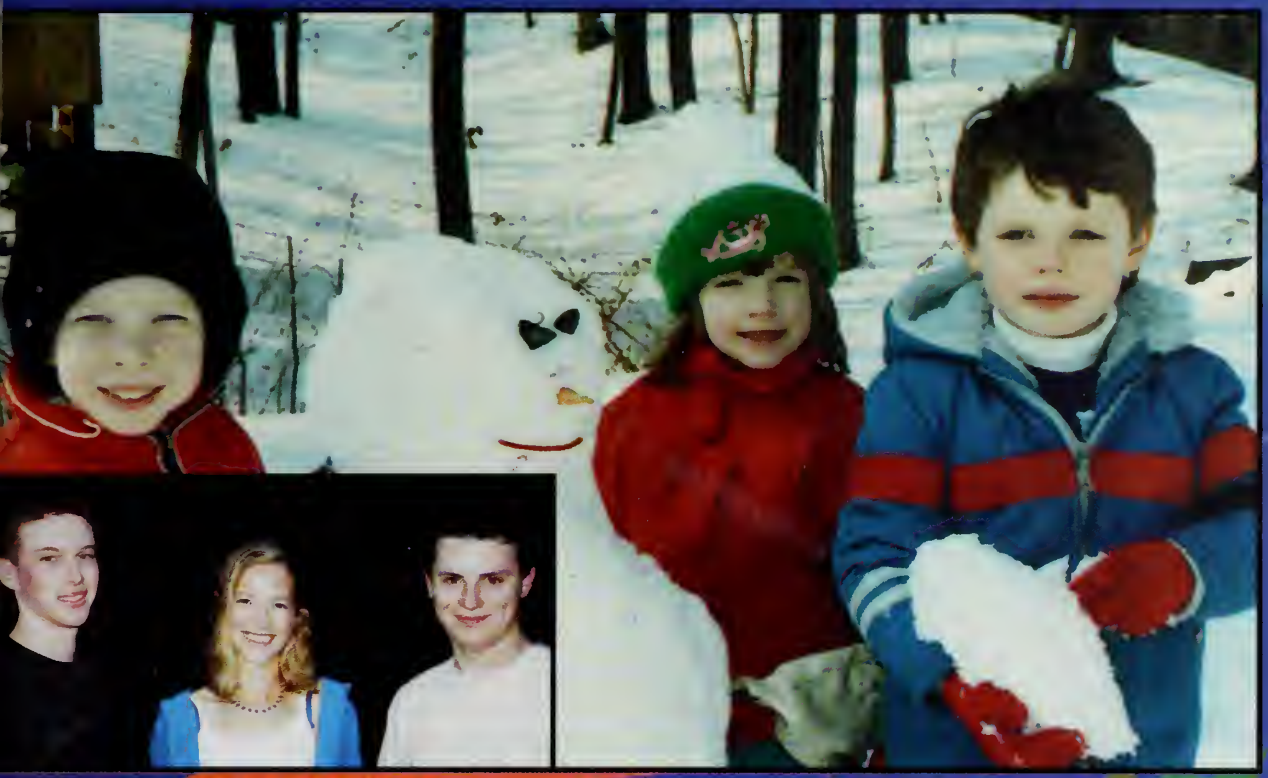
Every now and then, we reflect on the past. We remember those special days with our friends that we try to recreate, but never can - days playing outside in the snow or dressing up for those holidays and special occasions. We can remember those days in which we had nothing better to do than just hang out with our friends. These days will forever be a part of us, just like the friends that we will never forget. As we face the future, we will always be able to reflect on what has passed because these memories will always be a part of us. We will realize that these are the days to hold on to. . .

Danielle Cavagnaro and Emily Vacca have experienced a lot together over the years - like discovering that blondes really do have more fun!

After all these years, Joe Brogna and Ryan Armstrong still know how to keep each other smiling.



Nikki Irving and Megan Downer have shed their winter hats and coats, but their friendship still remains.



From vampires to beauty queens, Rachel Miller and Alissa Rogers still know how to dress for the occasion.

From cutie pies to heartbreakers, Andreas Trigler & Tom Pimentel have left behind the bad hair- and their shirts!- but not their friendship.

Always Remember

Always remember to forget the things that made you sad.

But don't forget to remember the things that made you glad.

Always remember to forget the friends that proved untrue.

But don't forget to remember those who stuck by you.

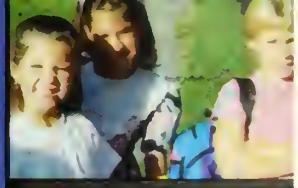
Always rememeber to forget the troubles that have passed away.

But never forget to remember the blessings that come each day.

-Author Unknown

Joe Coombs and Jack Gillis don't need their scally caps to look tough anymore - they just need themselves.

Vikki Costantino and Kim Sears have been celebrating birthdays together since age 5.



Back Where It All Began

As people flip through the following portraits of the Class of 2002, they will be able to read about the collective memory of our class. While our class's common bonds, like the 8th grade trip to Washington DC, may not be acknowledged by everyone, we are all shaped by those events. Many will remember the Class of 2002 for its sense of humor, knowledge, and creativity. Some may choose to relive the laughs that the football players brought them or the antics of comedians Joe Brogna and John DeCoste. Those things are now past, and the future looms ahead, a wonderful thing to see. Good Luck to the Class of 2002.

The Places We'll Go

eather Lesogor, Pam DaSilva, Melsa Bonanno, and Stephanie akeman gather together at Pam's ›use for a quick pic.

Matt Woods, Jen Lyons, and Sean Conover stop and pose for a halloween pick during their 8th grade science class.

Here we see Jack Gillis's split personalities. Blonde is definately a good look for Jack.

Janine Pare, Neil Fortin, and Allison Keily look like they are having a blast baking and playing with the frosting.

Oh The Places You'll Go
* Dr. Seuss *

Oh, the Places You'll Go!
Congratulations!
Today is your day.
You're off to Great Places!
You're off and away!
You have brains in your head.
You have feet in your shoes
You can steer yourseld
any direction you choose.
You're on your own. And you know what you know.
And YOU are the guy who'll decide where to go.
You'll be on your way up!

Seniors Ame Haji and Ricardo Amaral say being foreign exchange students, they don't get rewarded for their academic status, they both think it is a good idea. "It keeps the student working hard for their reward at the end of the term peace keep on moving"

- Ricardo Amaral

Mr. Lynn and Mr. Daley both state that the Renaissance Program is not a reward ceremony but it is a way for the community to show their gratitude towards their students.Pictured above, both are readying some of the refreshments prior to one of the quarterly Renaissance Assemblies held during the year. At the Renaissance Assembly for the Second Quarter held on Monday, February 25, 412 students were honored for either perfect attendance, most improved GPA, or honor roll membership. Some students qualified for more than one category, and all received ice cream donated by Ben & Jerry's, a Renaissance club membership and discount card, and a certificate of achievement. The school band also performed.

Learning our present, preparing for her future

At a national forum of 350 high school students which took on more significance since it happened post-9/11, Lillian Dignan poses with a group of her peers at on the steps of the Capitol Building. She played the part of National Security Advisor during a mock crisis set in the Middle East. Lily has always had an interest in government, politics and journalism and viewed this opportunity as a chance to explore her career options.

Live from Whitman Hanson...

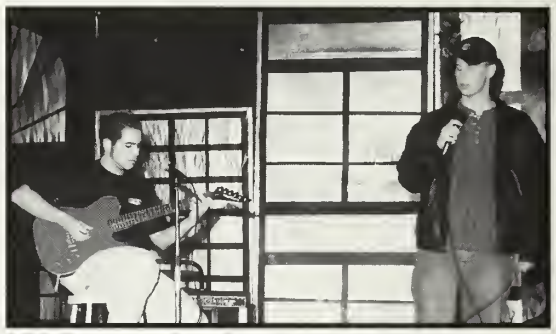
It's Friday Night!

As the christmas light stars twinkled above a New York cityscape made of paper and paints, the croud cheered for each act, and doubled over in laughter at the Saturday Night Live fanatic hosts. This show, produced by Marcus Hanscom, Amy LeFort, and Matt Woods brought in funds for the senior class as well as good times for all who attended. The night proved to be a spectacular display of talent. Awards were given out at the end of the show to the top acts chosen by a panel of teacher judges. David Clemmons took the first place prize of $100, Kristen Merlin won second of $50 and Jill Mandeville placed third with $30. However, the Bootylicious Girls won crowd favorite and took home $50 cash.

At the far right is one of the producers of the show, Marcus Hanscom, singing and playing some selections from the Dave Matthews Band. Next to him (clockwise) are your favorite hosts for the night, Matt Woods and Amy LeFort as Spartan Spirit Cheerleaders, Senior class advisors Mr. and Mrs. Floeck, Mary Katherine Gallagher, and the spastic little kid, the Hyper-Hypo.

Matthew Vincent and Amber D'Angelo serenade each other with the song "Light my candle" from the popular Broadway show RENT... as they attempt not to burn each other.

Samantha Keefe and Rebecca Hanscom perform an upbeat jazz dance to a mix of songs.



Matt Chaves and Daniel Rice jam to "Arms Wide Open", a song sung by Creed. The audience openly embraced their rendition of the song.

Tina Blosz, James Lyons, Crystal Petrillo, Johanna Garrett, Matt Vincent and Kenny Yates look like stars as they wait to perform for the talent show.

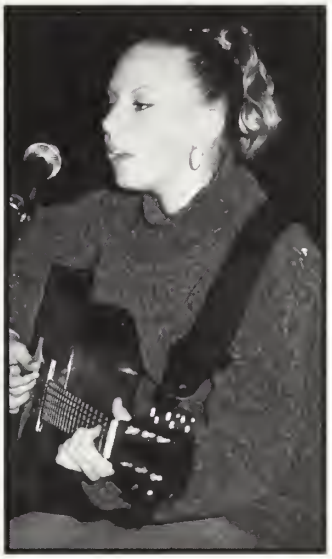
Pop boys Matt Woods, James Lyons, Matt Vincent, Nate Garrett, and Kenny Yates did an unreal job of impersonating of *NSYNC, dancing and lip synching to "POP."

Kristen Merlin impressed the audience while singing "I Will Always Love You". What was so impressive is that Kristen sang it with no background music... completely a-capella. Yeah Magical Merlin!

Kate Jordan made Tom Cruise look like "Old Time Rock n' Roll."

Gina Hover crooned to Selena's "Dreaming of You."

Alex Daley belted one jewel of a song.



Mary Umano played and sang an origional song.

David Clemmons playing his original piece "The Eleventh Day," dedicated to the victims, families, and friends of September 11th.

Kristen Borgeson, Tori Struble, Tina Blosz, Heather Borgeson, and Erika Southerland were children of destiny for one night.

A Journey to 2002

Traditionally, Mrs. Andersen's AP English classes have taken the honor of writing the Class History; and this year proved no different. Over the course of several days, the two classes went through several sheets of paper and numerous Dum-Dum pops. They spent their time together with friends reminiscing about the past, trying to think of the perfect way to sum up their four years at Whitman-Hanson.

WEEFRESHMEN

In the fall of '98
Our journey had begun,
When Whitman and Hanson united
For four years of fun.

When the first bell rang,
We started our school tour,
And the Seniors were sure to tell us
About the pool on the third floor.

Selling towels was our first job;
Our advisors said we needed cash.
Floeck and Benassi tried their best,
But it wasn't exactly a smash.

On our first day of lunch
We were amazed by the tasty snacks,
But we couldn't fit down the aisles
With our oversized backpacks.

The freshman team was 10-0,
But Marshfield showed no fear.
They thought they could beat us anytime;
Just wait 'til junior year!

On rally day we dressed in pink
To show our Panther Pride.
On lock-in night we got no sleep
'Til the sound of basketballs died.

Boy Bands and Britney
Were the stars of TRL,
And Saving Private Ryan
Showed us all that war is hell.

The news of Columbine shocked us all;
The loss of life was so unfair.
Security tightened throughout the school
As threats of violence filled the air.

When June rolled around,
We were ready for a break,
But when September came quickly
More memories we would make.

SURE SOPHOMORES

Led by Courtney, Ryan, Lil and Susan
We began our sophomore year.
With four strong leaders in place
We had nothing left to fear.

Lunch was no longer cheap
When it increased by a quarter,
But since people craved turkey slop
The lunch lines never got shorter.

In our new white T-shirts
Which we wore proudly,
We showed our spirit at the rally
And screamed very loudly.

Winter did pass slowly,
Not even a frost.
No snowmen, no snow days,
The summer was not lost.

Thousands gathered in Times Square.
To watch the big ball drop.
Although Y2K scared everyone,
The bug was just a flop.

Springtime brought MCAS,
A stressful test for sure,
But since we're the class of 2002
Who cares if we does poor.

Two of our teachers
Fell in love while they taught.
La Historía y Español united
And decided to tie the knot.

Six Flags was our reward;
We had finished two years of four.
Junior year was now at hand,
And we were certainly ready for more.

NOW WE'RE JUNIORS

Our sophomore year was finally over.
Our time as upper classmen had begun.
With Courtney, Ryan, Lil and Susan in the lead
We knew junior year would be lots of fun

Our very first Homecoming was totally cool.
The caf became club Whitman Hanson.
We strutted our stuff and busted a move,
And our D.J. kept us dancin'.

All the license tests were passed
And it was time to cruise,
Yet the excessive gas prices
Gave the drivers the blues.

The football team conquered Marshfield, nine to seven
And the Super Bowl berth was our prize.
But the tragic death of Coach Rick Rodman
Left our high school mourning, with tears in our eyes

With throwing and catching but no tackling
Powder Puff was full of fun.
The boys would have looked good in skirts;
Too bad we couldn't have won.

In November we tried to elect a new President
But the voting in Florida just didn't work out.
"Hanging Chads" forced the Supreme Court to decide:
Bush was in; Gore was left to pout

Amidst all of our studies, jobs and sports
We still managed to find time to play.
From the grassy fields to our living rooms
Frisbee and PS2 filled each day.

We waited all year for Jr. Prom;
The limos arrived exactly at seven.
We danced all night and had lots of fun
Until the DJ played Stairway to Heaven.

Mr. Gay and many of the staff
Decided to leave or retire,
And even though we'll miss them very much
We know the new teachers are sure to inspire.

Junior year was demanding
But still we had a blast.
Excitedly we anticipated the future
We would be Seniors at last!

SENIORS AT LAST

Alissa took the helm
And senior year was on its way.
We worked with the new administration
And enjoyed each and every day.

On September 11, peace was shattered.
We watched the fall of each tower.
For the heroes' lives, the world gave its love;
United in our darkest hour.

"Mission Statements are vital":
The core of what NEASC said.
Mission Mondays prepared us
For the evaluation ahead.

The football team reigned supreme
With another ACL title.
John and Joe gave us the scheme
And Coach Rodman remained our idol.

When our last rally came
We Seniors dressed in black.
We hooted and hollered from the stands
As the Freshmen turned their back.

We thought we were grown up,
But Harry Potter came to the screen.
We were mesmerized by the magic
And remembered our childhood dreams.

The closing minutes of the bowl,
Down by two, the clock at 1:08.
A miracle kick sailed thru the air,
And brought a win heard 'round the state.

We all rushed to guidance
Our futures far from set.
We filled out applications;
Our deadlines were barely met.

In the Series the Yanks lost miserably;
In the bottom of the ninth they did fall.
To the Wizards Jordan brought his magic,
And the Pats never needed Bledsoe at all.

We said our sad farewells,
To Chaskes, Harris, and Martin.
They will be greatly missed,
And will never be forgotten.

The senior banquet was a blast,
The prom was memorable too.
But these events are in the past,
What lies ahead is up to you.

Finally we are adults,
The end is coming near.
As graduation looms,
We put aside our fear.

For all that lies ahead,
We surely will succeed.
With memories we are left
And brand new lives to lead.

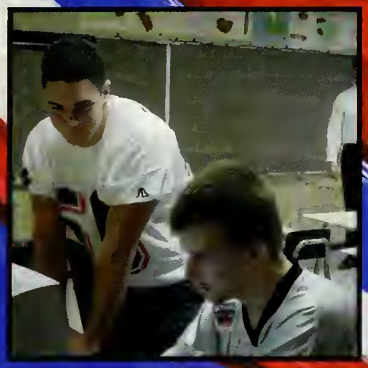
Student Life



Facing the future...reflecting on the past

While the Class of 2002 looks forward to the future, they will always reflect on their past and treasure the fun memories. They will never forget the carefree summers and the night life with their friends. Fashions change but the memories - from goofy pictures to Halloween, from parades to the Powder Puff game - these memories will be forever cherished.

Fun in the Sun... Summer!

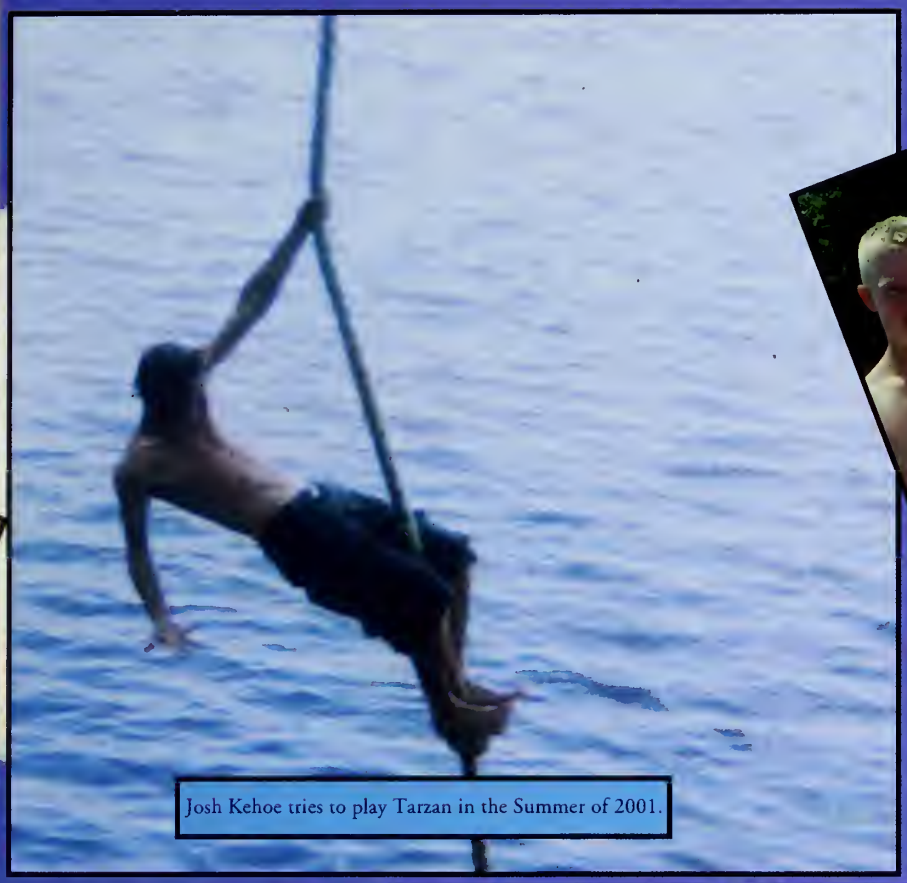
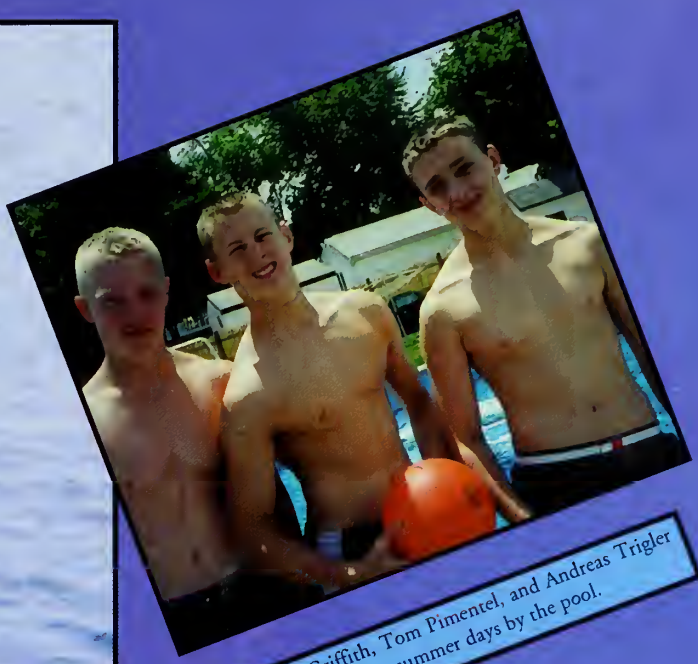
While eating his ice cream, John DeCoste likes to play in the arcade at Nantasket Beach.

Heather Borgeson, Nikki Irving, Tina Blosz, and Danielle Mooney show their Panther Pride while hanging out at the beach.

It was the last summer for the senior class to end their high school career. To kick back at the beach, hanging out by the pool, going to concerts, and just having fun with friends. Most people hung out at Nantasket beach or just hung out at friend's pools. This summer most kids could sleep until the afternoon and also go and do what they wanted. There was no worry of homework or going to school. Not even getting home early for a good night sleep. The summer of 2001 was all about having fun in the sun.

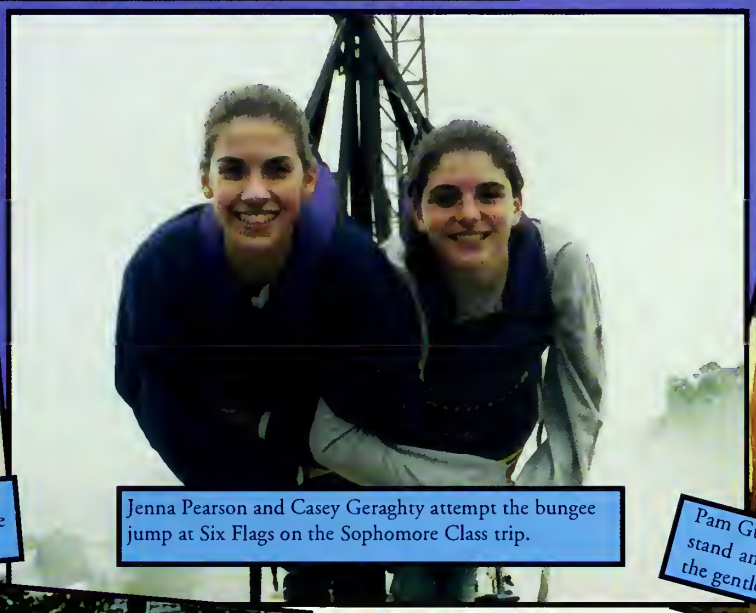


Josh Kehoe tries to play Tarzan in the Summer of 2001.



Ryan Griffith, Tom Pimentel, and Andreas Trigler spend their hot summer days by the pool.

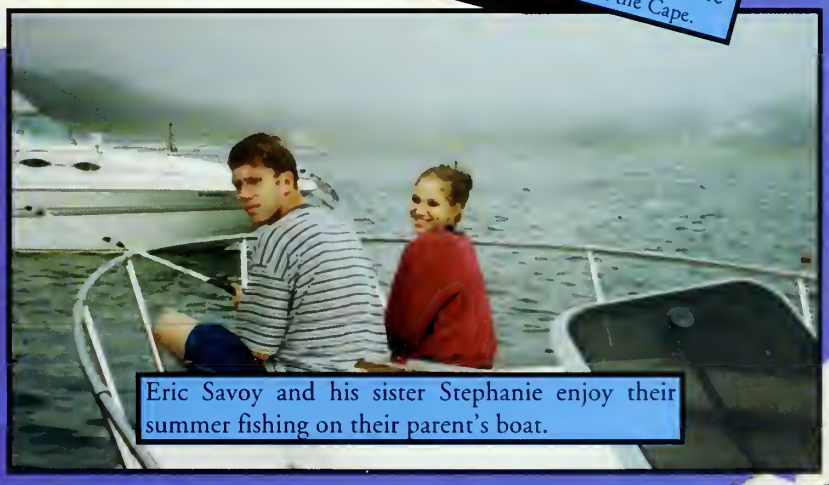
Rachel Smith and Jill Foley take time for a pose while bathing in the sun at a beach on Cape Cod.



Jenna Pearson and Casey Geraghty attempt the bungee jump at Six Flags on the Sophomore Class trip.

Pam Guglietti and Janel Cookson can only stand and hold their boogie boards before the gentle waves of a beach on the Cape.

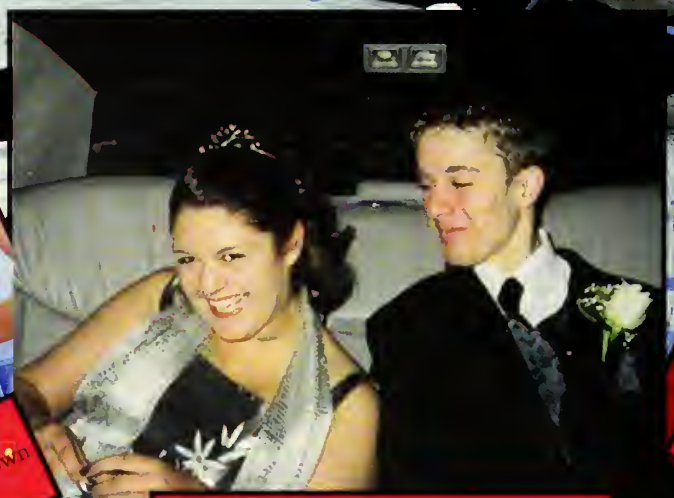
Summer time was a great time for Lisa Friedman and Melissa Curtain who spent much of it in their bathing suits while living by Lisa's pool.



Eric Savoy and his sister Stephanie enjoy their summer fishing on their parent's boat.

These girls are true fans of the Red Sox, especially Nomar just take a look at their stomachs

Framed by Melissa Ford and Lydon McKenna, Ryan Brown enjoys the Junior Prom.



Desiree Brier and Kevin MacMillan on their way to the Junior Prom

Smiling and looking hot for the camera Erin Obillo Jackie Koch and Amanda Weiss are getting ready to go dance the night away at the Homecoming

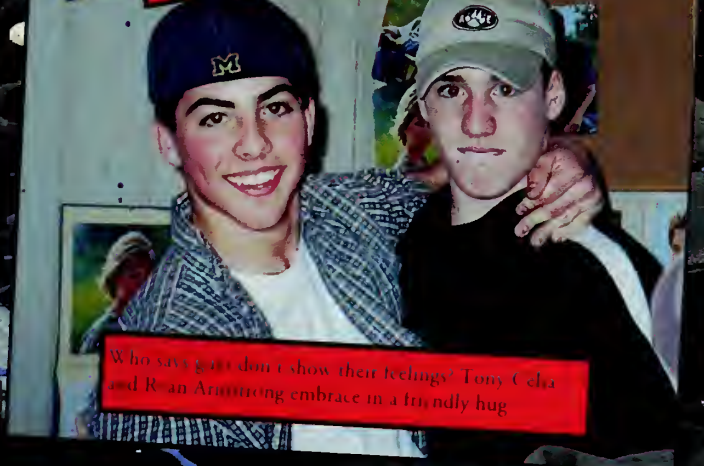
Ian Gillis, Jessica Hardy, Ray Pina, and Dave Tarbox pause from a fun night of playing pool and hanging out.

Hanging out at the football game these gals along with Matt Woods are having another fun night watching the Panthers win another big game

Night Life

Kerri Egan, Amanda Campos, Jenn Manley, and Jessica McCarthy are having another night just hangin out. Jess looks comfortable in her sock legged saint pajamas.

These girls like to show off their "normal" side of them while they get together.



Who says guys don't show their feelings? Tony Celia and Ryan Armstrong embrace in a friendly hug.

On Ryan Griffith's birthday, Andreas Trigler, Amanda Campos, and Mike Bearce are having a good time, while Jenn Manley is catching a quick nap before their big night.

Yeah, We've Got Style Fashion!

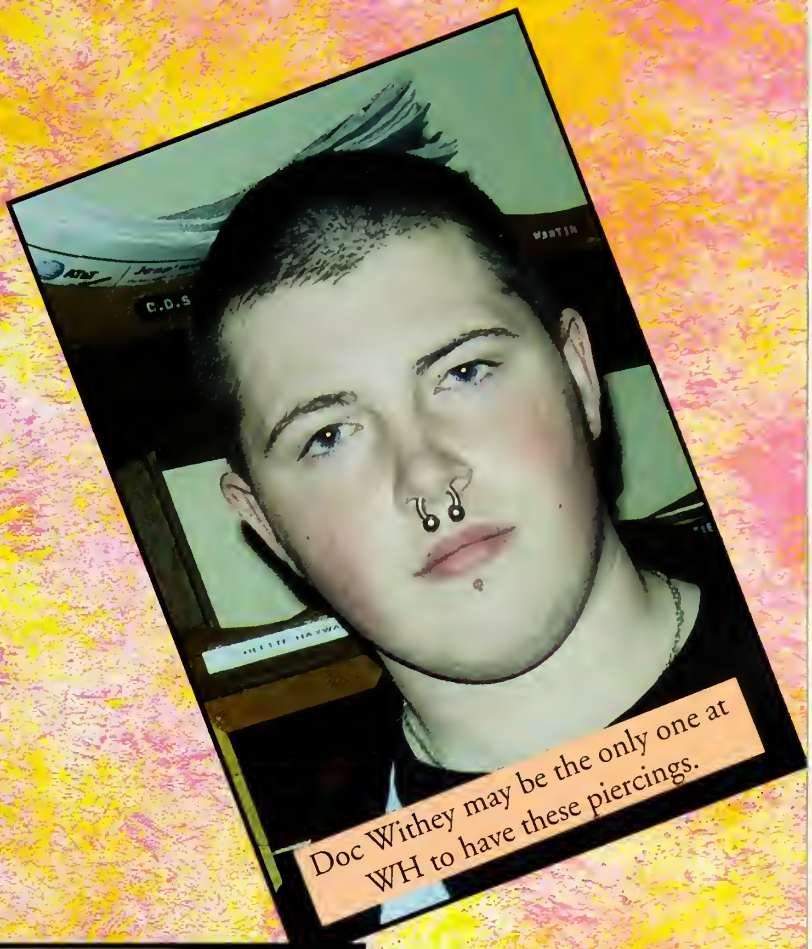
Suzette Mendes sports a rippin' pair of pants...literally!

In Today's world, we all know that anything can change within a blink of an eye. This also happens to be true in the fashion world too. When it comes to fashion, the students at Whitman-Hanson have more than a clue; we know what looks great and great taste never goes out of style. Fashion styles change but there's always one thing that stays the same; from jeans to sweaters to unique hair dos, Whitman-Hanson students always know what is in style.

Amie McGrath has a style all her own and proves it with these crazy pants.

Emily Vacca proudly shows off her belly button ring.



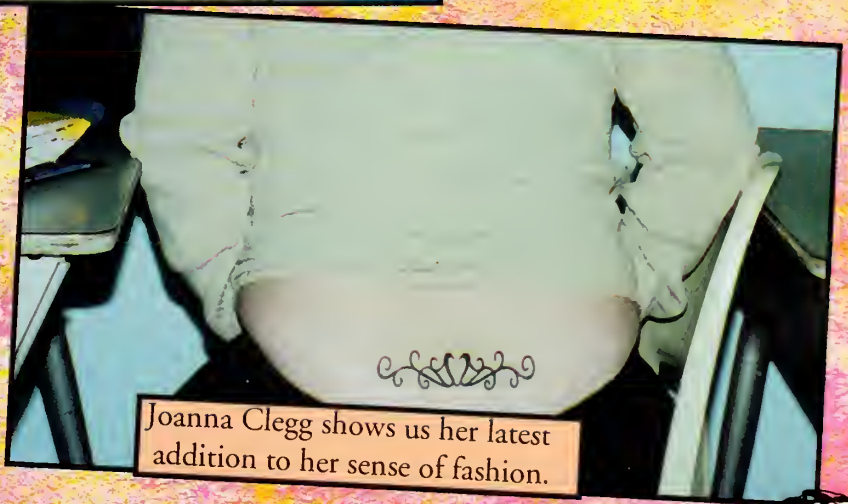
Doc Withey may be the only one at WH to have these piercings.

Plaid is back baby!

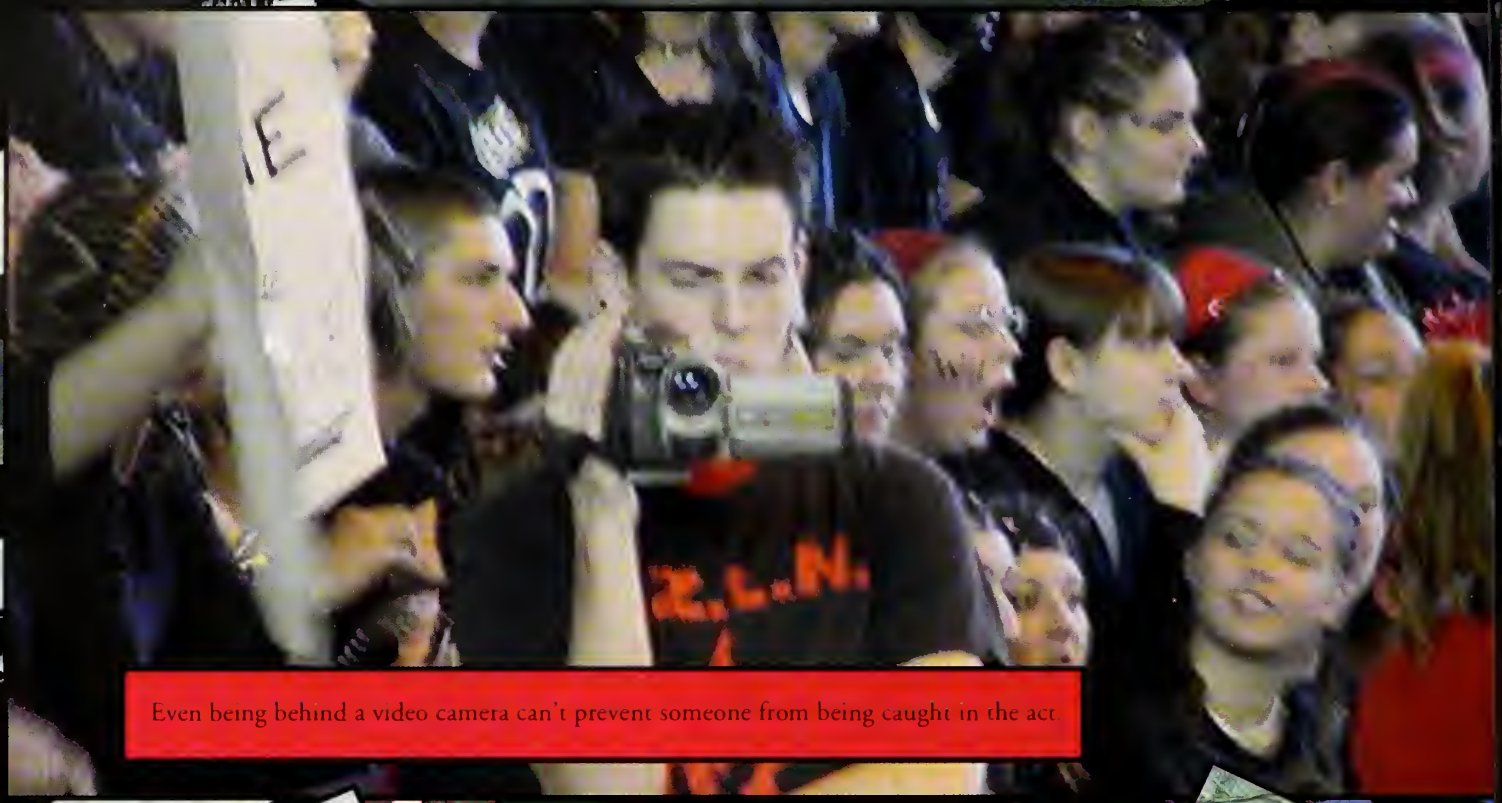
Melissa Curtin playfully sticks out her tongue and shows off her stylish ring.

Leopard print...a new fashion trend?

Leila Harandi stops to show off her stylish tattoo.



Joanna Clegg shows us her latest addition to her sense of fashion.



Even being behind a video camera can't prevent someone from being caught in the act.

Nikki and Tina goof off at the beach.

Emily, Kim and Katie share a group hug.

Katie Walker strikes a pose on the trampoline.

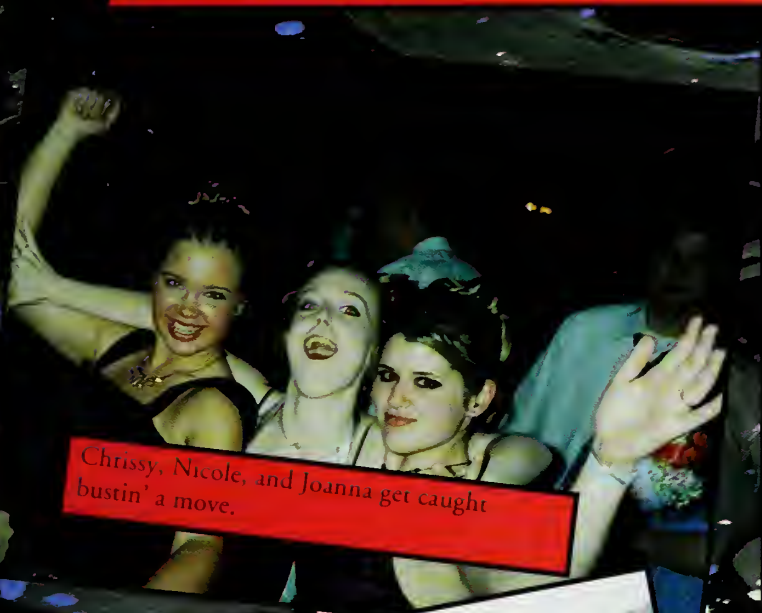
Pam DaSilva gets down with her bad self at the prom.

Capture the Moment...

Freeze Frame

Some of the best moments are captured when people least expect it. It is always embarrassing when you realize someone has just snapped a picture of you and you were doing something goofy.

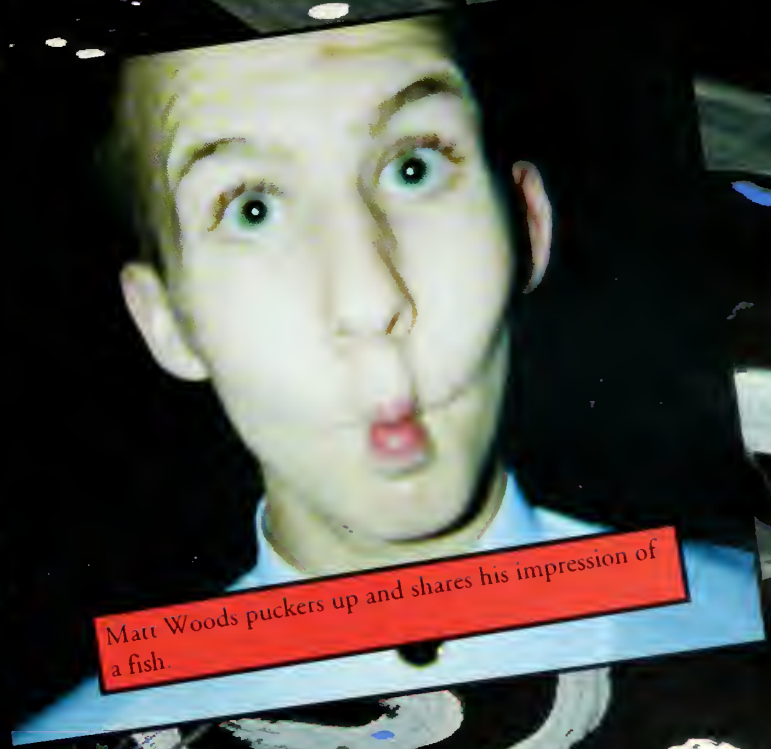
Most people would prefer to be warned before a picture is snapped of them, but that may make the picture appear to be posed and unrealistic. The very best pictures are the spontaneous ones, the ones that truly capture the moment...



Chrissy, Nicole, and Joanna get caught bustin' a move.

Special agents Struble, Peach, and Bor eson stop to pose in Quincy Market.

Mark and Josh want YOU for their collection.



Matt Woods puckers up and shares his impression of a fish.

HALLOWEEN 2001

Jack Gillis is beneath those golden locks, and cuts a stunning figure in his teal housecoat.

Conversations of the trickery to come were silenced abruptly by the first bell. Soon the flood of costumed high school students made their way to first period.

All had different motivations for the aesthetic costumes they chose to sport. Yet they all carried the same light-hearted spirit.

By lunch the photographer had pictures of every masked, painted or otherwise adorned face in the school.

Halloween 2001 was going great. That is until one of the beloved staff members said those four infamous words, "I'll be right back." Why oh why didn't anyone warn him of the danger those words bring. Needless to say, that individual never returned.

Well...I may have the story a little mixed up with this movie or something. Then again, who knows.

Thankfully Whitman-Hanson had a safe and responsible Halloween. (But it is understandable if you feel compelled to count the janitors and lunch ladies just in case!)

Mr. Lynn's Current Issues class pauses to show their child like spirit.

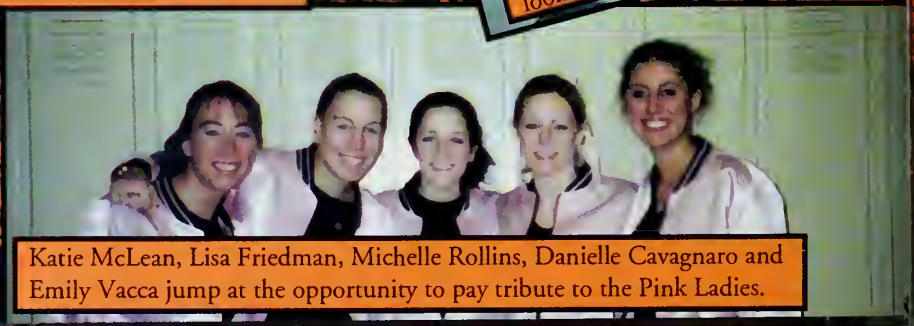
Janie Perez reminds Caitlyn Frazier that good girls go to heaven, but bad girls go everywhere.

Alex Kanelopolus, posing as one of our nation's greatest heros.

Caroline Arena and Rikki Copeland show W-H how well they go together.

Jess Hopps gets "stone" cold looks in this costume.

2 Thugs + 1 Cowboy = ?

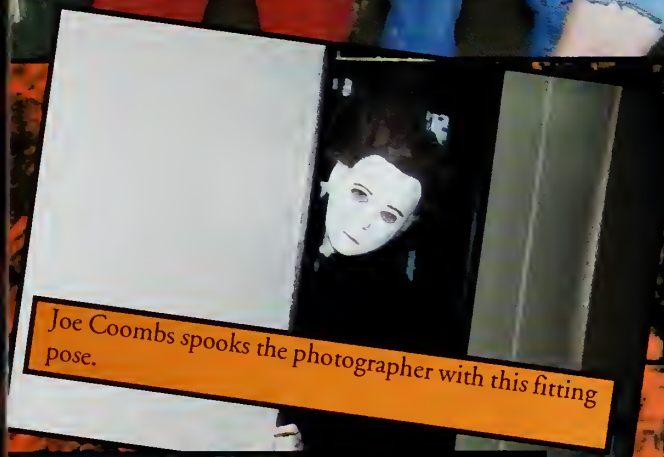


Katie McLean, Lisa Friedman, Michelle Rollins, Danielle Cavagnaro and Emily Vacca jump at the opportunity to pay tribute to the Pink Ladies.

The camera looks on as three unlikely characters get together portrayed by Justin Randall, Ryan Armstrong and Jon DeCoste.

The Wild Wild West better be ready for Alex Daley.

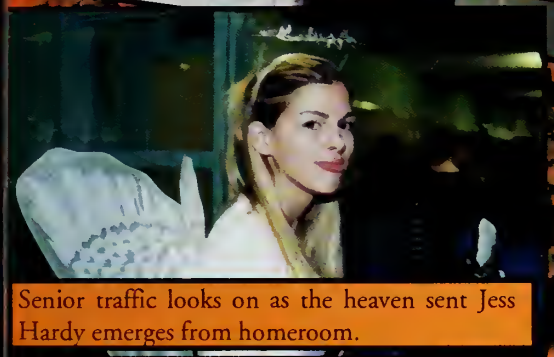
Matt Pennie, Chrissy Scriven, Joanna Clegg and Emily Vacca take a moment to pose for the photographer.



Joe Coombs spooks the photographer with this fitting pose.

Halloween Fright.

Isiah Queen roams the halls in his best Urkel get-up.



Senior traffic looks on as the heaven sent Jess Hardy emerges from homeroom.

Nathan Garrett really struts his stuff.

Back in the Day...

"When I was five, I dressed up like a fireman. I went to my mothers friend's house, where we would get some candy. Outside there were Jack-O-Lanterns. One of the lanterns caught the house on fire and I told my mom's friend. She thought it was cute, because I was pretending to fight fires. Little did she know that her curtain was currently in flames. I saved Halloween."

HONORING THE SOLDIERS...

VETERAN'S DAY NOV. 11, 2001

Mr. & Mrs. Whitman-Hanson, Ryan Armstrong & Alissa Rogers, show their appreciation for the veterans, by participating in the parade.

Ashlie Machado shows her spirit for Veteran's Day with red, white, and blue face paint.

DURING THE MORNING OF NOV. 11TH 2001, WHITMAN-HANSON STUDENTS SHOWED THEIR PRIDE AND RESPECT FOR ALL THE VETERANS, PERFORMING IN A PARADE IN WHITMAN, THE MAJORETTES, AND THE BAND SHOWED THEIR SKILLS, FOLLOWING MR. & MRS. WHITMAN-HANSON. WE THANK THE VETS!

Jeremy Dwyer makes beautiful music with his trumpet, honoring the vets.

Amanda Weiss and Scott Fantucchio show their determination, while conducting, to make W-H's band the best

Andrew Forbes displays his talent while marching in the parade.

Matt Chaves takes a moment to reflect on the day and show respect.

Tara Delmonico takes a second to strike a pose.

The majorettes are filled with joy after participating in the Veteran's Day Parade.

Band members march down South Avenue in Whitman to show their appreciation to the veterans.

POWDER PUFF GAME

Did Cosmo release the 21 Hottest Guys in the US? Nope that's the junior boy cheerleaders!

John Lipinski shows his washboard abs while lawn-mowing.

Tom Pimentel stands proud at the top of the senior's pyramid.

Senior girls show no mercy as they charge the field to prepare for the big game.

Senior boys, Matt Woods, Zack Lipinski, John Decoste, Ryan Griffith, Doug Brown, and Chuck Ford wrap Conor Daley in streamers to show how serious they are about their Panther Pride.

With his right pant leg tucked inside his right sock, JP Malloy shows a hip-hop flair while cheering for the senior girls while he's in midair.

Junior girls smile at the camera, finally five minutes to relax from practice.

James Lyons twirls a terrible towel as the Junior cheerleaders whoop it up.

THANKSGIVING DAY RALLY

Jen Potter, Susan Potter, and Casey Geraghty tell Fimentel that he will never fit the shoes of the"Real"Pimentel .

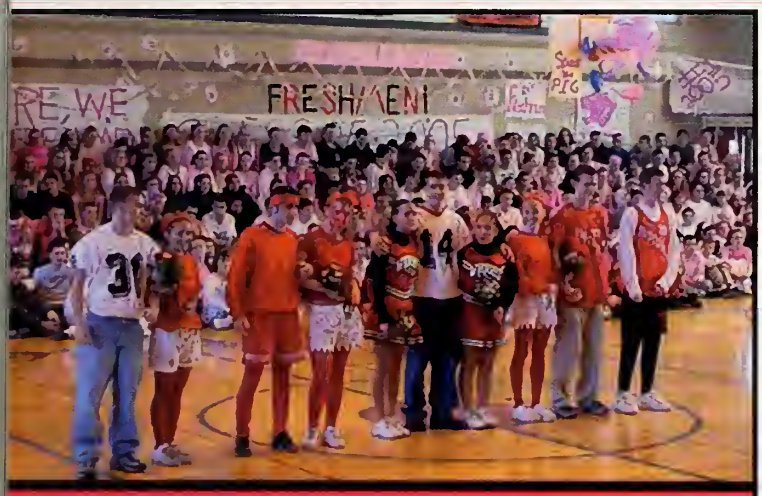
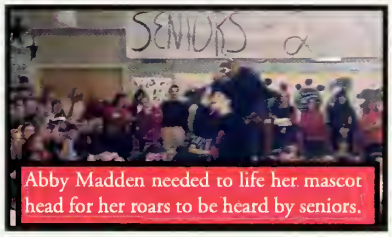
Becky "The Bone Crusher" Merritt stands next to her first victim, Alissa Rogers, whose left hand she had broken during Powder Puff practice.



Above: Russell Young, escorting Miss Fourth Down. Tiffany Puliafico; Matt Vincent escorting Miss Third Down, Jenn Thompson; Miss Second Down (tie) Jen Dashner and Allison Spivack, escorted by Chris Bonzagni; Miss First Down, Keli Santis, escorted by Mike Drewniak; and Ryan Kelly who would have been escorting Lindsey Vincent (not present) who was voted Miss Touchdown.

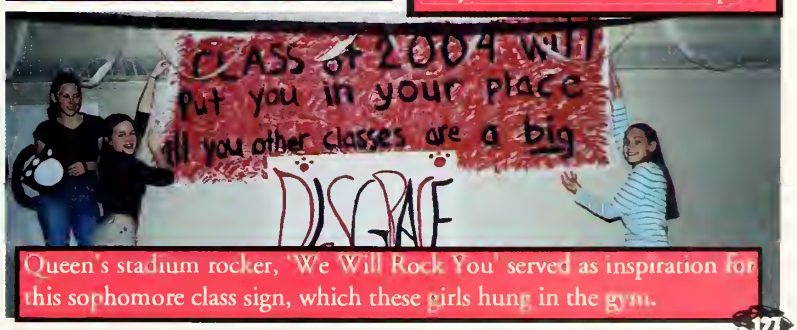


Abby Madden needed to life her mascot head for her roars to be heard by seniors.

Some freshmen boys pick up on the tone of the rally.

Kailyn Getchell's smile is almost as big as the pink blow up doll.

While he have been just one face in the senior crowd, Scott Peach was one of many who donned black makeup.



Queen's stadium rocker, 'We Will Rock You' served as inspiration for this sophomore class sign, which these girls hung in the gym.

Class of 2003

Almost at the Top

As Juniors, there's a lot to look forward to inside and out of school. Not only is there only one year left until you "rule the school," but the events that occur are unforgettable.

Juniors

One Last Chance...

Some look at their Junior year as two more years left until they are out of here, while others take the more realistic view, two more years of fun until we go out into the "Real World" and become independent. Freshman and Sophomore year has brought many good times along with new experiences. With Junior year underway, there is so much more to look forward to. The Junior-Senior Semi, Junior Prom, wearing decent colors at the Rally, Class Rings...all in all...Junior year is our last chance to prepare for our last year at Whitman-Hanson and our last year as underclassmen.

Class of 2003

I look up to and admire Mike Bearce because he is like a brother to me. He has always been there for me with his good advice. Thanks Mike and Good Luck!

Nathan Fowler is pictured on the right with Mrs. Beth Anderson who had nominated him for The National Youth Leadership Forum (NYLF)

According to Donna Weldin, executive director of NYLF, "Students who participate in NYLF programs get a jump start in figuring out if a career in medicine, law or national defense are, in fact, what they wish to pursue prior to college, thereby saving time, energy and, ultimately college tuition."

Students who are nominated for the program based on academic achievement and an interest in one of the three core fields of study on which NYLF focuses.

At the forum, Fowler was introduced to industry leaders and participate in rigorous reality-based simulations that challenge their problems solving skills and encourage them to take a leadership role ini whichever career path they may choose.

exciting and uplifting and frustrating and a little scary at the same time. But this freshman class shows maturity, intelligence, and athleticism. And the class of 2005 can't wait to show Whitman-Hanson High what they can do for the school.

Class Of 2005

Nick Nuby takes long strides while at a cross country meet on his way to another Whitman-Hanson victory.

Chris Sherwin, Alex Cole, and Ryan Butterfield take a breather from working while they have a class in the cafeteria.

Katie Gauvreau stops for a smile while heading to the nurse's office.

"My sister Amy is a great role model to me. I look up to her greatly. She is a good person to talk to and we have many similarities. I will Miss her a lot when she leaves."

–Liz Lefort

"I admire my sister (Bridget Black) because she is a great person. She sets good examples for me in all aspects and because of this, I work hard to live up to what she's done. If it weren't for Bridget, I don't think I would have accomplished a lot of the things I've done. Next year when Bridget leaves, I'm going to miss being able to go to Bridget for advive, laughs, or anything else."

Mr. Chaskes

2001

As Whitman-Hanson deals with the departing favorites of many, most students are remembering the good old times with one teacher in particular, Mr. Jerome Chaskes. Mr. Chaskes reflected on his years here at Whitman-Hanson…Why did you decide to become a teacher? "I had such bad teachers in high school, and I felt that I could do a better job. I was also more in touch with the sympathies and feelings of the young. I can honestly say that I can count on one hand the number of kids who I absolutely couldn't stand. They are now in various institutes of punishment." Is there ever a time that you regretted becoming a teacher? "Never." What faculty member have you grown close to the most throughout your years at Whitman-Hanson? "Belden, Cole, Valla, and Alperen. We're all good buddies." Tell us the eye story one last time for kicks." "I was 5 yrs old, I let myself be a target and I got hit. What else can I say?" He is, of course, referring to the time when he was hit by an arrow directly in the eye. What is the most memorable, yet humorous experience you have had in the classroom? "Many years ago, a girl asked to go to the clinic, but I was told not to let anyone out of class. When I finally let her out, she threw up all over the door. That was pretty awful." What do you plan on doing with yourself after you retire? "I plan to work for the Teacher's Association. I also plan to write, and pursue other hobbies, especially traveling. Traveling is my passion." And other words of wisdom… "It has been my extreme pleasure to have taught so many young people who have been successful."… As Whitman-Hanson senior, Melinda Barclay was quoted as saying: "Mr. Chaskes is the most intelligent man I have ever met in my entire life. It has been an honor to have such a great man as my teacher. He truly has affected the lives of all he has come in contact with. He may be a bit intimidating at first, but you eventually learn to see his true intentions, as he has said: 'to communicate his love of literature.'" "He is one of the most fair, kind, and honest men I have ever met. I feel privileged that I had him as a teacher."-Joanna Clegg, Senior. Other students remember the humorous side of our beloved teacher. Senior, Pat Casey: "Sophomore year, his first mod class unscrewed the screws in his chair. When we came in for homeroom, he fell to the ground. We thought he was having a heart attack."

Mathematic Geniuses Retire

Mr. Harris has been working at W-H since October of 1969. He was originally a student from 1960 to 1962, "So I feel like Charlie of the Kingston Trio song "M.T.A." Unlike Charlie, my stop is coming up and I'm ready to get off."

"I grew closest to a former staff member named Michael Kacergis; our friendship goes back to our college days. I'm undecided with what I'm doing after I retire from Whitman-Hanson, but I will never completely retire. There is not enough time in my life to do all the things I would like to do."

"In relation to the September 11, the tragic loss of Mr. Dennis O'Brien, a math department colleague and football coach has effected the school and myself. As a staff member here I think the dress code has changed the most, although I have seen numerous changes in policy and procedures. Hopefully, an attendance policy will be reinstituted."

"My most humorous memorable moment a W-H happened during one of our lengthly 23 minute lunches. I asked the group I ate my lunch with, "Where did I set my sandwich down?" They replied, "You ate it!"

Mr. Harris in 1973

Mr. Martin is known to many as a "True Professional" to the core. He has been a well-respected teacher at W-H since 1970.

No matter what the task is undertakes, he works very hard. Mr. Martin was know to go above board on any reports that administation asked him to do.

"Mr. Martin most likely has his first dollar bill he ever made," says Mrs. Strauss. He also has a big interest in Europe in the past couple years - Italy & France in particular. He has to highly successful sons (Keith and David) and one handsome grandson (Kevin).

Mr. Martin went hiking with his wife in the past two summers in Europe. He is also very hard working and sensitive.

Mrs. Strauss says, "He is known for his red dots."

COLOPHON

The Whitman-Hanson Regional High School yearbook is produced by the student yearbook staff, and adviser, Mr. Greg Goetz. The book was sold for $45 and $50. The total book cost is approximately $27,000. The ad revenue (business and congratulatory ad) total is $10,000. There were 425 copies printed. "Facing The Future, Reflecting On The Past" includes 32 color and 200 black and white photos/pages, with a total of 232 pages. The Lithograph cover is silkscreened on Meteor 503. In addition, the 2001-2002 yearbook cover was designed by Lauren Donnelly, '02. Also, the major text font in this yearbook is AGaramond and the main headline font is Mistral. Adobe Pagemaker 6.5 and Adobe Photoshop 6.0.1 were used on a Power Macintosh G3, Power Macintosh 7100/66av and a Power Macintosh 8500/180 as well as a Dell . Most candid photos were taken by students at W-H using Sony Mavica FD-92 cameras. Some images were scanned using a HP Scanjet 5470C. Undergraduate portraits and several sports and activities photographs provided by McGrath Studios. Senior/graduate portraits provided by McGrath Studios, Nicholas Studios, Susan White, Green Photography, etc. A special thanks goes out to McGrath Studios, and Nick Constantino.
This yearbook may not be reproduced by anyone without the consent of the 2002 editors and adviser.
